

Materiality matrix

We updated our materiality assessment in 2021 to identify the sustainability topics that matter most to our stakeholders, our partners and our business. Through this assessment, ten priority topics were identified as important to Hydro One’s business – energy transition emerging as the most important – and appear in the shaded area of the matrix. These topics form the basis for our sustainability disclosures and are reflected in this report.

